SMART Exchange

SMART is an acronym that stands for Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant and Time-based. Each element of the SMART framework works together to create a goal that is carefully planned, clear and trackable. You may have set goals in your past that were difficult to achieve because they were too vague, aggressive or poorly framed.

The only major negative to smart choice is that there isn't a lot of material on each page. Some teachers may love this, but I often found that there wasn't really enough to do, especially if you're in a program where you have to teach a specified number of pages per day.
